

Lutz Brangsch

Lutz Brangsch was a researcher at the Academy of Social Sciences in Berlin and, from 1990 to 1999 on the staff of the National Executive of the PDS. Since 1999 he has been a researcher at the Rosa Luxembourg Foundation, and since 2009 Senior Research Fellow in the Institute for Critical Social Analysis of the Rosa Luxembourg Foundation where he specializes in economics, economic and social policy, and the theory of democracy.

Current research work/areas

Transformation of statehood under today's conditions

Changes in the state apparatus, especially in the wake of the global economic crisis of 2007ff.

Relationship between theory, ideology and politics in left movements

The New Economic Policy (NEP or NEP) in Soviet Russia viewed as a transformation process

Research Focus

Interactions of politics, culture and economy as a core issue of reproduction and transformation theory

Criticism of the state and democracy

Welfare State in Globalization

Theory and practice of entry projects

Theory and movement history

Current lecture topics

History and future of the welfare state and the social question

Democratization of budget policy / participatory budgeting

Questions of the development of the EU

Basic questions of Marxian political economy

History of Left Thought - Rosa Luxemburg as a Practical Theorist

curriculum vitae

born 1957 in Berlin, studied political economy 1979-84 at the University of Economics in Berlin, then worked at the Academy for Social Sciences in Berlin, 1986-89 doctorate at the Academy for Social Sciences in Moscow on the topic "Interaction of collective and individual interests in Process of perfecting economic accounting", 1990 to 1999 employee on the party executive of the PDS (focus on social, economic and trade union policy), since 1999 employee in the Rosa Luxemburg Foundation, married, 2 children.

publications

Publications within the framework of the Rosa Luxemburg Foundation

Publications on Mehring1, the institute blog of the IfG

List of all publications

Contact:

+49 30 44310120

+49 1723118847

brangsch@rosalux.de

brangsch.de/blog